

A supply chain is a sequence of firms that perform activities required to ____.

A supply chain is a sequence of firms that perform activities required to ____.

- A. to facilitate wholesalers inventory selections
- B. to create synergy in their training programs
- C. to find products that are similar
- D. to create and deliver goods to consumers