

A therapist who says that she uses whatever psychological perspective “works best” for each patient might be best described as

A therapist who says that she uses whatever psychological perspective “works best” for each patient might be best described as

- A. social-cultural.
  - B. humanist.
  - C. eclectic.
  - D. psychoanalytic.
-