Explanation:

For example, if someone asks, “Are you ____ home?” the correct answer would be “at.”

Using the correct preposition helps to convey clear and accurate information about our location to others. While “in” can sometimes be used in certain contexts, such as – “I am in my room at home,”.

However, the standard and most commonly used preposition with “home” is “at.”

Importance of Using the Correct Preposition

Using the appropriate preposition in sentences is essential for effective communication. Prepositions provide information about relationships between different elements in a sentence, including location, time, and direction. In the
