

Centralization and decentralization are the problems of relationship between higher and lower levels of government.

Centralization and decentralization are the problems of relationship between higher and lower levels of government. They can be solved by?

- A. Introduction of local bodies in the country.
- B. Solving territorial and functional problems
- C. Solving the jurisdictional disputes.
- D. Active determination of external factors between the two