You ____ not stay here.

A. need
B. can
C. will
D. would

Show Answer...
Correct Answer: A (need)

Explanation:

The correct answer is A, "need."

In the sentence, "You need not stay here" the phrase "need not" is used to show that something is not necessary or obligatory. It indicates that staying is not required, giving the person the option to leave if they wish.

Option B, "can," is not the correct answer because it does not convey the same sense of lack of necessity as "need not."

Option C, "will," is not the correct answer either because it does not fit the context of the sentence. "Will" is used to indicate future actions or certainty, which is not relevant here.

Option D, "would," is not the correct answer. "Would" is used for hypothetical situations or conditional statements, which do not apply to this sentence.

In summary, the correct answer is A, "need," as it properly conveys the lack of necessity to stay in the given sentence.
