Choose the correct sentence.

- A. A teacher should practice what he preaches.
- B. A teacher should practice what she preaches.
- C. A teacher should practice what they preach.
- D. All are correct.

Correct Answer: (d) All are correct.

Explanation:

All the options given are grammatically correct. In English, 'he' and 'she' are used as gender-specific pronouns, while 'they' is used as a gender-neutral pronoun. Therefore, depending on the context and the gender of the teacher being referred to, any of these sentences could be used. Also, in recent years, using 'they' as a singular pronoun has become more accepted in formal writing to promote gender neutrality.

Gender-Neutral Language in English

Gender-neutral language, also known as gender-inclusive language, avoids bias towards a particular sex or social gender. In English, this typically involves the use of gender-neutral pronouns and other linguistic forms. This article will guide you through the principles of using gender-neutral language.

Why Use Gender-Neutral Language?

Gender-neutral language aims to treat all people equally and avoid discrimination. By using gender-neutral language, writers and speakers can avoid making assumptions about gender and promote equality and inclusivity.

Gender-Neutral Pronouns

English traditionally uses 'he' and 'she' as singular third-person pronouns. However, this can be problematic when the gender of the person being referred Choose the correct sentence. A. A teacher should practice what he preaches. B. A teacher should practice what she preaches. C. A teacher should practice what they preach. to is unknown, irrelevant, or non-binary. In such cases, 'they' is often used as a singular gender-neutral pronoun. For example, "Each student should bring their book" is a gender-neutral alternative to "Each student should bring his or her book".

Conclusion

Using gender-neutral language is a crucial part of inclusive and non-discriminatory communication. Understanding and applying this concept can help you communicate more effectively and respectfully with and about people of all genders.
