

Criminologists are primarily interested in the study of terrorism because:

Criminologists are primarily interested in the study of terrorism because:

- A. it is at the hub of many other forms of criminality.
- B. large numbers of people die.
- C. it is a foreign-based crime.
- D. most people do not understand its motivation.