Show Answer...

Correct Answer: A (thirteen million two hundred thousand two)

Explanation:

To write the number 13,200,002 in words, we first read the millions place (13 million), then the thousands place (200 thousand), and finally the ones place (2). The correct word form is “thirteen million two hundred thousand two”. Therefore, the correct answer is A. Option B is incorrect because it incorrectly reads the digits in the millions and thousands places as separate numbers. Option C is incorrect because it reads the digits in the wrong order. Option D is incorrect because it incorrectly reads the last digit as “twenty-two” instead of “two”.
