

In some countries office of the Procurator General, has been created to?

In some countries office of the Procurator General, has been created to?

- A. Ensure the working of government departments according to rules and regulations.
- B. Provide legal support to administrative bodies.
- C. Assess the training needs of government departments.
- D. Advocate cases on behalf of the government in the court of law.