

Paralysis of the left arm might be explained by a problem in the

Paralysis of the left arm might be explained by a problem in the

- A. motor cortex in the frontal lobe in the left hemisphere.
 - B. motor cortex in the frontal lobe in the right hemisphere.
 - C. sensory-motor cortex in the temporal lobe in the left hemisphere.
 - D. motor cortex in the parietal lobe in the left hemisphere.
-