

Planning and its technique is common to all human activity such as?

Planning and its technique is common to all human activity such as?

- A. Unity of programme and timeliness of programme.
- B. Peoples following is necessary for successful plan.
- C. Planners require reliable data for success.
- D. Coordination is must in viable planning.