The word 'yourself' in the sentence "You yourself are responsible for all the problems" is _____.

- A. Reflexive
- B. Emphatic
- C. Possessive
- D. A and B both

Show Answer...

Correct Answer: (b) Emphatic

Explanation:

In the given sentence, 'yourself' is used for emphasis, thus it is an emphatic pronoun. Reflexive pronouns are used when the subject and the object of the sentence are the same, and the action of the verb refers back to the subject. However, in this sentence, 'yourself' is used to emphasize that 'you' are the one responsible for the problem, not someone else.

The Role of Emphatic Pronouns in English

Emphatic pronouns, also known as intensive pronouns, are used to give emphasis to a noun or pronoun in a sentence. They are crucial in enhancing the meaning of a statement, adding intensity, or simply making it more impactful. This article discusses the use of emphatic pronouns in detail.

What Are Emphatic Pronouns?

Emphatic pronouns are essentially the same words as reflexive pronouns - myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, and themselves. However, what distinguishes them is their usage. While reflexive pronouns act as objects that reflect action back upon the subject, emphatic pronouns are used to emphasize the subject or another noun or pronoun in the sentence.

The word 'yourself' in the sentence "You yourself are responsible for all the problems" is ____.

Using Emphatic Pronouns

Emphatic pronouns cannot be removed from a sentence without altering its meaning. For example, in the sentence "I myself saw the incident," removing 'myself' would change the emphasis on 'I' seeing the incident.

Recognizing Emphatic Pronouns

An easy way to recognize an emphatic pronoun is by checking whether removing the pronoun from the sentence would change its meaning. If it does, then it's an emphatic pronoun. If not, it's probably a reflexive pronoun.

Conclusion

Emphatic pronouns are valuable tools in the English language, adding emphasis and strength to your statements. Understanding how and when to use them can help you communicate more effectively and expressively. So, keep honing your language skills and bring that extra emphasis to your communication!
