

Total quality management is?

Total quality management is?

- A. a commitment to continuous improvement.
- B. a relatively permanent change in behaviour that occurs as a result of work experiences.
- C. the attempt by scholars to identify how situations can be understood and managed in ways that respond appropriately to their unique characteristics.
- D. the study of individuals and groups in organizations.