

What did Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) invent?

- A. The Wheel
- B. The Plow
- C. The Arch
- D. The Soap

Show Answer...

Correct Answer: D (Soap)

Explanation:

Prophets in Islam are messengers of Allah, who are chosen to guide humanity and convey the message of Allah to people. They are not inventors in the traditional sense, but rather bringers of divine guidance and teachings.

Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) was a prophet sent by Allah to the people of Thamud, who were known for their strength and power. He was sent to guide them towards the path of righteousness and to warn them of the consequences of their sinful behavior.

Prophets in Islam are not known for their inventions, but rather for their teachings and guidance. They are revered as role models for humanity and are considered a source of wisdom and inspiration.

The Teachings of Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S)

Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) taught his people to worship Allah alone and to avoid worshipping false idols. He also taught them to be kind and just towards one another and to care for the less fortunate in society.

One of the most significant events in the life of Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) was his miracle of the she-camel. Allah instructed him to ask his people to provide water for a she-camel that had been sent as a sign from Allah. However, the people of Thamud refused and killed the she-camel, which led to their destruction.

What did Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) invent?

as a punishment from Allah.

Prophet Hazrat Saleh (A.S) is a revered prophet in Islam, and his teachings and example continue to inspire Muslims around the world to this day.