Correct Answer: B (99th out of the 121 countries with sufficient data)

Pakistan's Ranking in the Global Hunger Index (GHI):

In the 2022 Global Hunger Index, Pakistan ranks 99th out of 121 countries with sufficient data to calculate the GHI scores. With a GHI score of 26.1, Pakistan is categorized with a level of hunger that is serious. This ranking and score indicate that Pakistan faces significant challenges in addressing hunger and improving food security within its population.

Understanding the Global Hunger Index and country rankings is crucial for policymakers, organizations, and individuals involved in combating hunger and promoting sustainable development. The GHI serves as a valuable tool to identify areas of improvement, implement targeted interventions, and monitor progress toward reducing hunger on a global scale.

Efforts must be made to address the underlying causes of hunger, including poverty, limited access to nutritious food, inadequate healthcare, and insufficient resources for sustainable agricultural practices. By prioritizing these areas and working collaboratively, countries can strive towards achieving a world where hunger is eradicated, and every individual has access to sufficient and nutritious food.

About the Global Hunger Index Scores:

The Global Hunger Index (GHI) is a comprehensive tool used to measure and track hunger at global, regional, and national levels. It provides valuable insights into the prevalence and severity of hunger worldwide. GHI scores are based on the values of four component indicators: undernourishment, child stunting, child wasting, and child mortality.

1. Undernourishment:

Undernourishment refers to the share of the population with insufficient caloric intake. It measures the proportion of people who do not consume enough food to meet their dietary energy requirements. A higher value indicates a higher prevalence of undernourishment in a country.

2. Child Stunting:

Child stunting represents the share of children under the age of five who have low height for their age, which reflects chronic undernutrition. It indicates long-term inadequate nutrition and can lead to impaired growth and development.

3. Child Wasting:

Child wasting indicates the share of children under the age of five who have low weight for their height, reflecting acute undernutrition. It is a sign of recent and severe weight loss, often caused by a lack of nutrient intake or illness.

4. Child Mortality:

Child mortality refers to the share of children who die before their fifth birthday. It partly reflects the combination of inadequate nutrition and unhealthy environments. Children who suffer from malnutrition are more susceptible to diseases and have a higher risk of mortality.

Based on the values of these four indicators, a GHI score is calculated on a 100-point scale, indicating the severity of hunger. A lower score represents lower levels of hunger, while a higher score reflects higher levels of hunger. The GHI scores help classify each country's hunger severity, ranging from low to extremely alarming.
