Show Answer...

Correct Answer: A (June 7)

Explanation:

World Food Safety Day is celebrated on June 7th every year. It is an international observance dedicated to raising awareness about the importance of safe food handling and preventing foodborne illnesses.

World Food Safety Day is June 7. The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations which funds World Food Safety Day has designated “Food Standards Save Lives” as the theme for 2023. This year’s theme overlaps with the 60th anniversary of Codex Alimentarius, a collection of food standards, guidelines, and codes of practice adopted by the international Codex Alimentarius Commission (with which the FDA participates across many committees) to encourage governments and food safety advocates around the world to focus on the importance of applying safety standards in every aspect of food production—from the source to the table. FDA scientists actively participate in the Codex Alimentarius committees and FDA also considers Codex standards when developing our U.S. national food safety standards.
