

Which of the following is categorized as a strategic decision?

Which of the following is categorized as a strategic decision?

- A. An officer approving the application for driving license.
- B. An executive ordering the transfer of an employee in another department.
- C. A head of the department approving a financial sanction.
- D. A committee approving a new rule to meet the future public requirements.